Certified Medical Director Application Deadline is April 1, 2018

Certified Medical Directors (CMDs) use their training, education, and knowledge to positively influence the quality of care in U.S. post-acute and long-term care settings. The ABPLM CMD certification program recognizes the dual clinical and managerial roles of the medical director. CMDs commit to training in the functions and skills of medical directors and are required to complete and intensive course focusing on 22 critical areas of medical direction management. Applications for initial certification or recertification are available online at www.abplm.org.

In need of CMD credit hours? The Society's 2018 Annual Conference is the place to receive evidence-based education, network with experts and peers, and earn the credits you need. The conference has been approved for up to 22.5 hours in management education and 18.75 hours in clinical education toward certification/recertification as a CMD. For more information, visit <https://paltc.org/annual-conference>.
